Consent to Change Personal Health Information Preference

Use this form if you want to change your previous decision about whether Medicare may or may not share your personal health information with Accountable Care Organizations (ACOs) for use in coordinating and improving the quality of your care.

You can also call 1-800 MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227) instead of completing this form. TTY users should call 1-877-486-2048. If you're not sure whether Medicare currently is sharing your personal health information with any ACOs, please call 1-800-MEDICARE.

Allowing Medicare to share your information helps us give you the right care, in the right place, at the right time. This information will include things like dates and times you visited a doctor or hospital, your medical conditions, and a list of past and current prescriptions. With this information, your doctors and other healthcare providers working in our ACO will know more about the care you have gotten from other healthcare providers, giving them a more complete picture of your health. However, if you choose to let Medicare share your medical information with us, this information may also be shared with any other ACOs in which any of your doctors or other healthcare providers participate.

Completing this form overrides any previous decision you made about sharing your personal health information. Therefore, if you previously declined to share your data with another ACO, using this form to consent to share your information with [NAME OF ACO] will override that earlier decision, and Medicare may start sharing your information with that other ACO and any other ACOs in which any of your doctors or other healthcare providers participate. If you don't want to share your information with other ACOs, then don't use this form to consent to share your personal health information with [NAME OF ACO].

Your privacy is very important to us, so we respect your choice on the use of your personal information.

Use this form if you have previously informed Medicare of your personal health information sharing preferences and want to change them. You would have contacted Medicare with your preferences in one of two ways:

- You completed and signed the "Declining to Share Personal Health Information" form in your doctor's office, or completed, signed and mailed that form to the address under section D below or provide the form to another ACO.
- You called 1-800 MEDICARE and told Medicare your personal health information sharing preferences.

Note: Even if you don't want to share your personal information with [NAME of ACO] and any other ACOs in which any of your doctors or other healthcare providers participate for use in coordinating and improving the quality of your care, Medicare will still use your information for some purposes, including certain financial calculations and determining the quality of care given by those ACOs. Also, Medicare may share some of your personal health information with those ACOs as part of measuring the quality of care given by healthcare providers participating in the ACOs.

A. Your Patient Rights

At any time, you may decline to share your personal health information with [Name of ACO] and any other ACOs in which any of your doctors or other healthcare providers participate for use in coordinating and improving the quality of your care.

Note: if you received or are receiving treatment for alcohol or drug abuse, Medicare won't share information about that treatment with any ACO unless you give Medicare express written permission to do so. This form does not provide that permission.

If you change your mind at any time about sharing personal health information for care coordination and quality improvement purposes with [Name of ACO] and any other ACOs in which any of your doctors or other healthcare providers participate you can complete this form and return it to the address listed in Section D, or you can call 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227). TTY users should call 1-877-486-2048. Your new preferences will take effect within approximately 60 days of your request. At any time, if you request it, an ACO must make available to you an explanation of which healthcare providers are participating in the ACO and who will have access to your health information in the ACO.
